Tennis club offers summer jr. program

Keep your children and teenagers active this summer by enrolling them in the Tsawwassen Tennis Club's junior tennis program.

Under the direction of level one tennis professional Neil Scantlebury of Richmond's Elite Tennis Academy, kids will learn valuable skills in this popular lifelong sport. Never mind the fun and fresh air all summer long!

The tennis program consists of 10 weeks of afternoon lessons twice per week, beginning June 29 and ending Sept. 3.

The program is designed for children ages 6 to 18, from beginners to advanced players.

The cost is only $220 for those who are not members of the Tsawwassen Tennis Club. Members pay $160 per child. A high performance program is also available.

Space is limited so register soon. For registration forms, family discounts and other details, visit www.tzawwassen-tnsclub.com.

Junior Welcome Day is Saturday, May 30 from noon to 3 p.m. It's a great opportunity to visit the tennis club, register your child, meet the coaches, enjoy some free hot dogs and play some tennis.

The Tsawwassen Tennis Club, which has about 300 members, has been operating since 1967 and is at 286 English Bluff Road.
